A FEW years ago the sketches by Phil May delighted lovers of art.

These sketches consisted of a very few broad lines which arrested the eye and held it.

It is said however that he drew numberless lines and then gradually rubbed them out until only the necessary ones were left.

Real life runs on few broad lines of thought, but before we get these few we draw many others.

Gradually as we grow older we come to the few and perhaps at last we say: Think sanely. Live nobly. Leave the rest to the great Eternal Spirit.

For Chapped, Blotchy, Red or Wrinkled Skin

Do you realize that just beneath that coarse, rough or discolored complexion there is an exquisitely beautiful skin of youthful tint and delicacy? If you could only bring this complexion to the surface, discarding the old one! You can—in the easiest, simplest, most natural manner imaginable. Just get an ounce of ordinary macerated wax at any drugstore, apply nightly like cold cream, removing it morning with warm water. The wax seals Nature by gradually taking off the flaking particles of dead and half-dead surface, causing no discomfort whatever. Cutaneous defects like chaps, pimples, blotches, liver spots, much patches, freckles, of course disappear with the old skin. Nothing else will accomplish such wonderful results so soon and so true.

First used and even the deeper wrinkles often appear at this season. In such cases nothing is better than a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. of macerated wax in 1 pt. of water. This is remarkably effective. —Advertisement.

Flirting With Married Men

Beatrice Fairfax Writes On Its Dangers.

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

ALL the articles that ever have been written about carrying on love affairs with married men might be condensed into very simple form and written thus: "DON'T."

Any girl who flirts with another woman's husband or any man who flirts with another man's wife is mortgaging the happiness of two out of three people to a third—who probably will get no joy out of the bargain!

Woolens

Washing woolens as they should be washed is a science in itself.

The water must be a certain temperature, not too hot, nor too cold—good soap must be used, not lavishly, nor yet sparingly—and, above all, the garments must not be rubbed with soap!

When the dirt is out the woolens are wrung—but not twisted—dried slowly and are ready for wear—soft, warm and clean—without shrinking.

We also launder perfectly Woolen Blankets, Auto Lap Robes and Navajo Blankets.

We positively guarantee all our laundry work. Phone 470, write or hail a driver.

Before you buy another pound of rice—

Ask yourself whether you really want rice that has had a coating of glucose or talc put on, to make it glossy.

The law now forbids the sale of coated rice in four states. The law protects the unsuspecting purchaser from buying glucose and talc—instead of pure rice!

Always buy rice by name—ask for Comet, and be sure of the rice you buy.

Comet is pure, clean, uncoated rice—no glucose, no talc. That is why you don't have to wash Comet, you can use it just as it is—there is nothing to wash off. It is wholly different from ordinary coated rice.
